

MEN REFUSE TO TELL OFFICERS WHO DROVE CAR

Burns Merely States That "Skinny" Was at The Wheel

TO MAKE A CHECK-UP

Patrolmen Will Visit Rogues' Gallery in Search of Photographs

"Skinny" drove the car.

That is the information given State Highway Patrolmen by one of the two men placed under arrest yesterday in connection with the automobile accident which occurred at Andalusia on Tuesday night. Two men were killed and two were injured when the machine crashed into a trolley car.

The patrolmen are continuing their probe of the affair with a determination to get at the bottom of the mystery and to fix beyond doubt the identity of the driver.

Beyond giving the name of "Skinny," Daniel Burns, 2808 Memphis street, Philadelphia, now being detained in the case, refuses to divulge who drove the machine. The car, according to John Strayton, 2945 Weikel street, Philadelphia, belonged to him and was stolen at 8:30, an hour before the tragedy, from in front of his place of residence.

William Moran, 2819 Tulip street, Philadelphia, now in the Harriman Hospital, suffering with injuries which he received as a result of the accident, also refuses to give any information concerning the ownership of the car and who drove it.

Moran has steadfastly denied that he was in the machine and that he knew the two men, George W. Creary, 36, 3004 Belgrade street, and Aloysius McGahan, 30, 2945 Weikel street, Philadelphia, who met their death in the crash.

A check-up is being made of photographs in the Rogues' Gallery, Philadelphia, as a means of learning something of the past history of the four men who it has been learned were riding in the car. Police are of the opinion that the fifth man or "Skinny" is a fictitious individual.

Successful Card Party Given by Guild Members

A successful afternoon card party was given yesterday for the benefit of the Needlework Guild, at the homes of Mrs. Mary Ancker and Mrs. Edward Keating, of Radcliffe street.

Four tables of "500", one table of pinocle and four tables of bridge were formed and favors were given to the following having high scores:

Mrs. S. W. Black, Mrs. L. E. Macchette, Mrs. Meta Merriam, Mrs. John Wehner, Mrs. William Pearson, Mrs. Guthrie, Mrs. Frank Lehman and Mrs. Grace L. Williams.

Many delicious home-made cakes were sold and the party proved a success socially and financially.

Elks' Charity Committee Planning for Annual Ball

Arrangements have been completed by the committee in charge of the Elks' Charity Ball to hold this big social event on Friday evening, February 28th, in St. Mark's Auditorium.

Ches West, the celebrated orchestra leader, of Philadelphia, has been engaged to furnish the music, his ten-piece musical organization always popular and in great demand playing for most of the frat dances in and around Philadelphia.

The members of the committee who plan to make this the biggest event of its kind ever held here, are: Warren P. Snyder, Howard I. James, J. Phil Betz, Maxwell J. Gordon, John M. Wright, John S. Williams, James Kelly, Pemberton Munster, Charles Heller and Chancery Stoneback, Jr.

WOMEN MEET TO SEW

The ladies who gathered at the Community House on Dorrance street, Tuesday afternoon to sew for the Needlework Guild, were as follows: Mrs. James Lefferts, Mrs. Harry Daniels, Mrs. Mary Ancker, Mrs. G. Williams, Mrs. George King, Mrs. F. A. M. Glordon, Mrs. Guthrie, Mrs. Walter Molden, Mrs. Fred Krink, Mrs. Anni, Miss Ida Bruden, Miss Esther Lawrence, and Miss Katharine Keating.

Mrs. Dorothy Fenton and baby returned to their Lansdowne home from the Harriman Hospital.

Chirping Robin And A Snow-Storm

By "The Stroller"

While walking down Radcliffe street this morning, Hugh B. Eastburn heard a familiar but long-absent chirp.

Looking toward some shrubbery from whence the pleasant sound appeared to issue, Mr. Eastburn beheld a robin amidst the snow-covered foliage.

KEYSTONE FIVE LOSES TO WILMINGTON TEAM

Local Quintet Goes Down To Defeat by Score of 41 to 22

BEST GAME OF SEASON

By T. M. Juno

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 30.—Before a crowd of 4,000 fans the Keystone Aircraft basketball five of Bristol bowed to the fast Wilmington Reserves, 41-22, last night in the Wilmington Armory.

The Bristol boys were beaten by a much bigger and more experienced team but they failed to lose their fighting spirit and when they left the floor at the end of the fray they received a great ovation from the assemblage.

It was the best preliminary game played in Wilmington this season. Wilmington Reserves consists of former Salesium High and Wilmington High School stars.

Although the team showed fine cooperation as a whole, Larry David's and Gene Lawler's playing stood out for the airplane makers.

Warner and Hollahand formed the best combination for the winners. Warner scored nineteen points.

Wilmington scored first when Gromley dropped one in from under the basket.

Larry David was fouled and made his free shot to be the first scorer for the Airplaners.

Kupikowski scored a wonderful goal on a shot past the fifteen-foot mark.

"Sid" Trot made good at a foul.

"Eddie" Roe received a great hand as he took the ball from an opposing player, dribbled down the floor and sunk a twin-pointer from side court to even the count, 4-4.

Hollahand broke the deadlock with a good foul shot.

Jack Nichols missed a foul but Gene Lawler followed the play and hit the cords on an overhead shot putting Keystone in the lead for the first time.

Kirk was fouled and sunk the shot.

Warner made three twin-pointers and a foul shot in rapid succession.

Hollahand made a beautiful field goal from side court and at a bad angle.

Nichols scored for the Airplane Makers.

Hollahand and Gromley scored double-deckers with a foul by Larry David, sandwiched between them.

A revolver shot ended the first half at this point with the score 16-9, with Wilmington on the long end.

Trott dribbled through the entire Wilmington team to be first scorer of the second half.

Warner scored for Wilmington and was fouled doing so. He added the foul to his list.

STOCKHAM RE-ELECTED SCOUT COUNCIL HEAD

Morrisville Man is Selected for Fourth Consecutive Term

LEEDOM RESIGNS OFFICE

NEWTOWN, Jan. 30.—Thomas B. Stockham, of Morrisville, was elected for a fourth term as president of the Bucks County Boy Scout Council on Tuesday evening at the Arcade Hall.

Frederick H. Clymer, of Doylestown, was elected treasurer for his fourth term in this office. William Burgess, who has been serving as chairman of the troop organization committee of the council, was elected County Commissioner of the Boy Scouts, which office has the responsibility of the volunteer leaders in Bucks County Scouting.

It was with regret that the Council had to accept the resignation of Walter F. Leedom, of Bristol, as National Headquarters Representative who, owing to the pressure of other welfare responsibilities, could not serve any longer in that capacity. Edmund D. Lovett, of River road, Yardley, was elected as the Bucks County Council National Headquarters Representative.

One of the most interesting and pleasing reports was the report of the Troop Organization Committee, which indicated a total Council membership of Wolf Cubs, Boy Scouts and Sea Scouts of 1032, and a total membership of men serving in many varied capacities of 743, giving the total Council membership of 1775. This proved that there has been a growth of 33% increase over last year in the number of boys in Scouting and a growth of 80% in the number of newly interested men over last year, giving their time as assistant scoutmasters, scoutmasters, deputy scoutmasters, troop committeemen, merit badge counselors, community solicitors and other board members.

The report of the County Court of Honor Committee showed an unusual advancement in the various ranks that Scouts endeavor to attain, 184 Second Class Scouts, 77 First Class Scouts, 760 Merit badges (a gain of 160 over the total of the previous two years), 6 Merit Badges Sashes, 41 Star Scouts, 11 Life Scouts and 2 Eagle Scouts.

With the many advancements that will be taking place at the coming Court of Honor on February 8th, in the Court Room at Doylestown, the National Anniversary Celebration Week, further progress will be satisfactorily made on advancement for next year's report.

Dr. Hayman said there are 800,000 beekeepers in the United States at the present time and that close to 300,000,000 pounds of honey are produced annually and from 3,000,000 to 6,000,000 pounds of wax.

LATEST NEWS

QUEBEC, Que., Jan. 30 — (INS) — Peter Trans, diver imprisoned for sixty-five hours in the icy waters of the river at Riviera aux Outardes, is dead, according to word received here today.

His lifeless body, torn and bruised and with one leg smashed from being battered by the raging river against the cribbing in which he was held captive—was brought to the surface today.

His heavy diver's uniform had been practically torn from his back by the terrific force of the river currents. He had been lodged in the cribbing, erected as a part of a dam for the Ontario Paper Company since 10.30 o'clock Monday morning.

Trans' body was freed from its under-water grave and brought to the surface by Quesnel Moreney and Levis Begin, professional divers, who reached Riviera aux Outardes by airplane yesterday and immediately descended into the river.

SENATE COMMITTEE UNANIMOUS IN ITS VOTE TO SEAT JOSEPH R. GRUNDY AS MEMBER OF BODY FROM PENNSYLVANIA

Elections Body Upholds Governor Fisher's Choice — Nye To Press Resolution for Ouster, But Admits Probable Defeat

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—By a unanimous vote the members of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections decided yesterday that United States Senator Joseph R. Grundy, of Pennsylvania, has legal and valid title to the Senate seat which he is occupying.

Senator Samuel Shortridge, of California, chairman of the committee, prepared the report which the committee adopted.

The Senate itself will be asked to adopt the report, probably today. Its action is expected to parallel that of the committee.

When Senator Grundy presented the credentials from Governor John S. Fisher designating him to fill the vacancy caused by the Senate's refusal to give William S. Vare the seat to which he had been elected in 1926, Senator Gerald P. Nye, North Dakota, Independent, sought to deny the administering of the oath of office. Failing in that, Nye introduced a resolution which sought to have Senator Grundy declared by the Senate "to be not entitled to retain his seat in the Senate of the United States." It was on this resolution that the Senate Committee acted adversely and voted its approval to the validity of the Grundy appointment.

The full text of the committee report, as prepared by Senator Shortridge, and accepted unanimously by his colleagues on the committee—both Republican and Democrats—and which will be presented to the Senate today, is as follows:

"Your Committee on Privileges and Elections, to which was referred S. Res. 195, with instructions to submit to the Senate a report covering the right of Mr. Grundy to his seat in the Senate of the United States, begs leave to report as follows:

"That of the eleventh day of December, 1929, a vacancy existed in the office or position of Senator of the United States from the State of Pennsylvania.

"That on said day Honorable John S. Fisher was the Governor of the said State.

"That in the exercise of his power and authority on said day the said Governor appointed Joseph R. Grundy a Senator of the United States from the said State to fill the said vacancy until the same is filled by election, as provided by law.

"That thereafter, on the twelfth day of December, 1929, the said Joseph R. Grundy caused to be filed with the Senate written evidence of his appointment as such Senator, in words and figures as follows to wit:

"In the name and by authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

"Governor's office.

"To the President of the Senate of the United States:

"This is to certify that pursuant to the power vested in me by the Constitution of the United States and the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, I, John S. Fisher, the Governor of said State, do hereby appoint Joseph R. Grundy a Senator from said State, to represent said State in the Senate of the United States until the vacancy therein, caused by the action of the United States Senate, is filled by election as provided by law.

"That thereupon, on the said twelfth day of December, 1929, the said Joseph R. Grundy was regularly inducted into the office or position to which he had been appointed by taking and subscribing to the required oath as provided by law; whereupon he took his seat in the Senate.

"By reason of the law and the evidence, your committee concludes and finds that the said Joseph R. Grundy is a duly appointed and acting Senator of the United States from the State of Pennsylvania and that his title to said office or position is legal and valid."

Senator Grundy took the oath of office on December 12th and the Nye resolution was referred to the Shortridge committee the same day. It was a lengthy motion, reviewing the Senate action in the Vare case and setting forth that in the Pepper-Fisher campaign there had been large expenditures of money, of which a considerable portion had been contributed by Senator Grundy.

It sought to impugn the election of Governor Fisher by this statement:

"Whereas the expenditure of such large sums of money to secure nomination is contrary to sound public policy, harmful to the dignity and honor of the State, dangerous to the perpetuity of a free government and destructive of the value and merit of an election climaxing a campaign of such expenditures; therefore, be it resolved that the aforesaid Joseph R. Grundy is declared to be not entitled to retain his seat in the Senate of the United States."

Nye Only Opponent

Senator Nye was the only opponent to Senator Grundy appearing at the committee session. He repeated in the main the argument of the Senate when he had opposed the administration of the oath of office to Senator Grundy, but admitted he would probably lose in a vote.

OLD FRENCH-BRITISH PROBLEM ON THE TABLE

Steering Committee Will Consider the Big Question

W I D E DIFFERENCES

By George R. Holmes

L. N. S. Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The old controversy between France and Great Britain as to whether naval limitation should be effected on the basis of global tonnage or by categories was thrown on the table at the first fully open plenary session of the London naval arms conference today.

It was discussed by the spokesmen of all five powers at the conference save Japan. Then on the motion of Secretary of State Stimson, it was referred to steering committee which will consider the question.

Although it has not been decided definitely, the committee probably will consist of two delegates from each power but its personnel was specifically left indefinite in order to give elasticity to its make-up.

No matter how many members each nation will have on the committee, there will be only one vote for each nation so nothing will be effected by it except by unanimous vote.

The first public session of the conference revealed that there are still wide differences of opinion but all present expressed optimism at its conclusion that an agreement was in sight on the basis of the Boncour proposal which will allow a limited percentage of transfer of craft of the smallest categories.

The younger son of a nobleman, Fagge came to this country thirty years ago to seek his fortune, and after wandering around for five years settled down in Pepperell.

AVIATION EMPLOYEE CAPTURES AWARD

Richard L. Schleicher, of The Keystone Corporation, Is Honored for Paper

PRESENTS BEST PAPER

Winning first prize in a national aeronautics competition, Richard L. Schleicher, graduate of Villanova College, June 1929, brings the third important air award to Philadelphia within the past two months.

The award, donated by Black and Bigelow, air transport consulting engineers, New York, under the auspices of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, is given annually to that student in the United States who presents the best paper on some phase of aeronautics.

Interested in aeronautics for many years, Mr. Schleicher, as a student of Villanova School of Technology, decided to enter the contest from an engineering standpoint; using his knowledge of internal combustion engines and applied mechanics.

His winning paper, also his graduation thesis from Villanova College last summer, was "Design of a 300-horsepower Radial Reciprocating Air Cooled Aircraft Engine." The paper, original throughout, worked out in detail the constructional features of a power of engine that had not at that time been placed on the aviation market.

Mr. Schleicher, 5530 Johnson avenue, North Merchantville, N. J., is now employed by the Keystone Aircraft Corp., Bristol, working in the stress analysis division of the engineering department of that concern. He has been there for the past six months.

Watching the Weather With Uncle Sam

A Series of Talks by Welby R. Stevens

(Assistant Weather Forecaster, U. S. Weather Bureau)

This summary gives you a picture of weather conditions in the United States today. Now we shall continue the series of talks which was begun yesterday and tell you how the observations are made upon which this and other summaries are based.

In preparing his summaries and predictions the forecaster depends upon simultaneous observations of local weather conditions at about 250 regular observing stations in the United States, Canada, Alaska, and the West Indies. The stations are all manned by trained observers and meteorologists. The observations are made twice daily, at 8 a. m. and 8 p. m., 75th meridian time, which corresponds to 7 o'clock in the Central Valleys, 6 in the Rocky Mountains, and 5 on the Pacific coast. When occasion demands, as for instance, when a hurricane is approaching the coast, or a severe cold wave is spreading southward and eastward over the country, the forecaster calls for special observations to be made at intermediate hours at selected stations in the danger zone.

Nearly all the observations are made by means of instruments which have been devised or improved by the Instrument Division of the Weather Bureau.

One of the most important meteorological instruments is the barometer. It measures the atmospheric pressure, which is simply the weight of the column of air above the station to the outer limits of the atmosphere. Although we are absolutely unconscious of the ordinary changes in atmospheric pressure, it is subject to considerable variation. Since pressure de-

DEVELOPMENTS NOTED IN SLOT MACHINE PROBE

Twenty-Eight New Indictments Are On Record Today

JURORS DISCHARGED

Are Subject to Recall, However, at Any Time

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 30.—(INS)—Searching relentlessly through its underworld and the upper crust of Lackawanna County, the grand jury probe into slot machine racketeering here continued today to rip its way into the ranks of those alleged to be connected with the operation of the "iron thieves" in this territory.

That much misused word "probe" aptly fits the present investigation. "It's like the problem of a surgeon—searching for the infected spots and then exposing those spots to view in order to operate," one official commented today.

Twenty-eight new indictments were on record here today. All but one of the latest true bills name hotel and candy store owners who are charged with maintaining the machines in their establishments.

The other indictment is one of conspiracy returned jointly against Burgess Fred Fabretti, burgess of Throop; Deputy Sheriff Steve Pollack, former chief of police of Throop, and Samuel Graubart, reputed to be one of the "big shots" in the operation of the slot machines.

Pollack appeared in court only yesterday and pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy lodged against him by the grand jury last Friday. President Judge E. C. Newcomb deferred the sentence.

Developments are coming thick and fast in the "cleanup." Judge Newcomb has granted a rule returnable on February 8 calling upon Bernard J. McGurl, former Mid-Valley Bank official, and Angelo Giombetti, police officer of Winton Borough, to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of court. It is alleged that both men attempted to influence witnesses called to testify before the grand jury.

Judge Newcomb has discharged the grand jurors but has told them they are subject to recall at any time. The jurist commended members of the investigative body for their zeal which resulted in a number of present and former county, city and borough officials being indicted.

Most of those indicted will not go to trial in criminal court here before the April sessions, according to an announcement by District Attorney John J. Owens.

MORE RHYME THAN REASON

Science has been digging around to ascertain how much truth, if any, there is in the old adage "Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise," and has come to the conclusion that there is in it more rhyme than reason.

Actual experiments convinced scientists that the first few hours of the day are not productive in mental work and that muscular efforts are apt to be more clumsy in the early morning than later in the day. They found men and women who can work and think faster and better late at night than early in the morning.

Like most adages, this old saying reflects the conditions and opinions of the time of its creation. Its author lived in the day when man lighted his nocturnal way with candles and, because of this scarcity and high cost, found it necessary to teach and practice economy in their use. Then, more than now, frugality was synonymous with wisdom.

No doubt the old adage was also designed to promote the other virtues. Early to bed precluded all patronage of what passed for the night clubs of that day and meant no buggy riding with the reins wrapped around the whip. Virtue is admirable and desirable, but practicing it for its own reward was probably no more widespread then than today. Therefore the hope of health and wisdom had to be used as a decoy to win society to the virtuous habit of retiring and rising early.

Poultry and peasants still follow the ancient rule, but philosophers never have and, due to the radio, the theater and movies, books and other reasons for keeping late hours, few urbanites now do.

ONE-ROOM SCHOOL SURVIVES

Judging from figures contained in a federal survey, the "little red schoolhouse of song and story and reality is still a far more important factor in American education than occasional references to its "passing" would indicate.

There are 160,000 one-room, one-teacher schools in the United States. Illinois still has more than 10,000 of these schools; Iowa, 9,500, and Kansas, Missouri, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin more than 6,000 each.

Consolidation of rural schools in recent years has closed thousands of the one-room affairs, but the movement has hardly touched some of the more important agricultural states and the reduction elsewhere has been spasmodic and sectional even within states.

There are 3,500,000 children attending these schools with their shorter terms, inadequate equipment and poorly paid and untrained teachers. Does this not strikingly reveal the deficiencies in educational opportunities for children in a large part of rural America?

Rural America is to be commended, however, for its achievements in free education. It has virtually eliminated school-less areas and is improving its schools and raising its teaching standards as rapidly as its finances permit.

The self-appointed guardian not always a good adviser.

UNABLE TO WORK FOR 3 MONTHS KONJOLA SCORED

Four Years of Suffering From Rheumatism Ended By New Medicine

MR. HENRY BAUM

"Rheumatism had me in its clutches for four long years," said Mr. Henry Baum, 987 East Lehman street, Lebanon, Pa. "Day and night I suffered frightful agony. The pains settled in my legs and feet and walking was impossible. I was forced to stop working for three months. Weak kidneys added to my misery and sleep was simply out of the question. I was weak and my system was in a badly rundown condition. I tried every medicine and treatment I could think of but nothing helped me."

"I was skeptical when Konjola was mentioned to me but I had not taken a full bottle before I realized a change in my condition. Two more bottles and it was free from rheumatism for the first time in years. Kidney trouble, too, vanished with the rest of my ills. I now walk without trouble, all pain is gone and my general health is better than it has been in years. I hope any man who suffers as I did, will try Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Bristol at Hordman's Cut Rate store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—(Adv.)

Dancing and Cards Will Be Enjoyed at Cornwells

A card party and dance will be held in St. Charles' Auditorium, Cornwells Heights, on Saturday evening, February 1st. Many valuable and handsome gifts will be distributed among those present. Pinocle, bridge, "500" and euchre will be played.

The music for the dancing after the games will be supplied by the orchestra of Robert Bracken Post, American Legion, of Bristol.

It is expected that a large crowd will be present, as was the case last year, both to take part in the card games, and to dance on the large and smooth dance floor.

Entertains Friends At Social Evening

Mrs. Alice Patterson, of Bath street, entertained friends at her home last evening at cards. The evening was spent playing the game of "500" and prizes were given to Miss Mary E. Wanner, Miss Mabel Deitrick and William Terry.

At a late hour, the guests were invited to the dining room where a sour kroust supper was served. The table was prettily decorated with a bouquet of pink rosebuds in the center and pink candles and candlesticks placed on each side of the bouquet. The guests then departed for their homes, after a most enjoyable evening. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Terry, of Tacony; Mr. and Mrs. William Terry, of Frankford; Mrs. Charles Deitrick, Miss Mabel Deitrick and Miss Mildred Deitrick, of Emilie; Sam Patterson, Miss Frances Patterson, Miss

Keystone Five Loses
To Wilmington Team

floor, the Keystone amassed two more points on a shot by David.

Warner made a foul shot for the winners.

Haley chalked in with a field goal. Trotter scored a point from the gift line.

Warner added six more points to his credit with three double-deckers.

Hollahan again scored from under the net.

Bristol called time out with the score 30-14 against them.

Kupidowski and Haley made three points for the Reserves with a field and foul goal, respectively.

Lawler gave a wonderful exhibition of fast dribbling and then added a field goal.

Warner could not be stopped, however, and came through with two more shots from the foul mark.

David scored the last four points for the winners with a field goal apiece.

Lawler, David and Roe added five more tallies to swell the Keystone total as the game ended, 41-22.

In the main fray of the evening, fancy shooting by Tom Barlow netted a victory for Wilmington over the Pattison five, 33-27.

Apiary Operator Tells Of The Bee Industry

in an effort being made by the Department of Agriculture to make a survey of the rapidly increasing business of beekeeping.

Dr. Hayman explained how it was illegal to sell bees at a public sale when a health examination certificate did not accompany the bees. It is also illegal to keep bees in anything but a movable box. To care for bees the caretaker must be free from odors of all kinds and should dress in white, preferably cotton, but never wool.

A government experiment has found that for one bee to gather one pound of honey it would require the bee to travel a distance of three times around the world.

Dr. Hayman said that while bees are not the only insect carrying fertilization to fruit blossoms, they are the only insects under the control of man.

In North Dakota, Dr. Hayman said, farm managers have found an unusual opportunity in the connection between honeybees and sweet-clover seed. Honeybees increase the yield of sweet-clover seed over 100 per cent and by that means probably also improve its pasture value, as the seed on sweet-clover plants seems to add to the fattening and milk production of cattle grazed on that crop, western experiments show, Dr. Hayman said.

In one section near Chaffee, N. D., several farmers have contracted with a beekeeper who puts colonies near the clover fields on their farms. A survey showed that on the field closest to the bee yard the yield of seed averaged 540 pounds an acre. On the other fields the yield diminished in almost a direct ratio to the distance, a field 280 rods away having a yield of only 300 pounds an acre.

Report on Show
"Russ" Thomas, general chairman of the Kiwanis Minstrels, reported that "everything is ready for the big show next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday." So fine has been the support given the club members to put the show across, that no doubt exists that it will be "a big hit," the chairman reported. Over 600 tickets were reserved during the first two hours the charts were open yesterday.

Two Men Arrested at Red
Lion Inn, Waive Hearing

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 30.—Frank McEntee and Clem Goodman, two men caught when the Red Lion Inn, Bensalem Township, was raided early Saturday morning, this week waived a hearing here, and were released under bail for court.

At the time of the raid last week four half barrels of beer were found, and were brought to the county jail here. It was stated that the two men above mentioned were ready to leave the premises when the State troopers entered.
